

Ohio Living Foundation Donor Privacy Policy

Donor Privacy

We protect your right to privacy: The Ohio Living Foundation does not sell, share, or trade your personal information with any other organization, nor send mailings to our donors from other organizations. The Ohio Living Foundation does not release gift amounts to others, including family members. A donor's request to remain anonymous will be respected.

All information concerning donors or prospective donors, including their names, the names of their beneficiaries, gift amounts, and value of estate commitments, will be held in strict confidence by the Ohio Living Foundation, its staff, and other authorized personnel. Such information will only be used for activities in support of the Ohio Living's mission in accordance with the organization's pre-established and accepted ethical guidelines. Additionally, the Ohio Living Foundation adheres to all HIPAA requirements.

Information Collected

In connection with any fundraising, Ohio Living may disclose to the Ohio Living Foundation demographic information about residents and patients including but not limited to name, address, phone number, and dates on which we provided health care or services, without written authorization.

The Ohio Living Foundation does not collect information about its website visitors, unless he or she specifically fills out an online form for a donation or other request. The types of personal information collected may include but are not limited to:

- Name
- Organization
- Address
- Email address
- Phone number
- Gift amount and restriction
- Information about others through an In Honor or In Memory donation
- Credit/debit card information

Information provided through online donation forms is collected in a secure environment by a third party processor (Blackbaud), and full donor contact and gift information is passed to the Ohio Living Foundation. We do not receive any account numbers. For Blackbaud's privacy policy, please visit www.blackbaud.com.

For more information about terms of use for the Ohio Living family of websites, please see Terms and Conditions, located in the footer of each Ohio Living website.
